New Online Search Page for Fictitious Business Names is Now Live

FRESNO, CA– Brandi Orth, Fresno County Clerk and Registrar of Voters, has announced the addition of an on-line Fictitious Business Name (FBN) search page to the Fresno County website. This online FBN search feature provides multiple search options for current and expired FBN's that have been filed within Fresno County. This new real-time search capability can identify business owner names, business addresses and whether a fictitious business name is active or inactive.

Orth said, “We are so pleased to offer this new quick and efficient search tool. The FBN search site can be conveniently accessed by any person from any device through any web browser. This new online search option is just another step in our continuing mission to ensuring that the Fresno County Clerk’s office provides public information in the most convenient manner possible.”

The Fictitious Business Name Search feature can be found at <https://fbnlookup.co.fresno.ca.us/>. Once on the page, simply type in the first few characters of the business name, owner’s name or FBN file number.

Anyone experiencing any difficulty or needing assistance can contact the Fresno County Clerk’s office at 559-600-2575 or by email at clerk-elections@co.fresno.ca.us and someone will be available to help.
